SUBJECT: Chip and Pin Program

ALL STATE AGENCIES AND OTHERS AUTHORIZED TO USE STATE CONTRACTS:

Citibank has announced its program to convert all of its credit card users to Chip and Pin credit cards. The Chip and Pin program is a security advance being introduced in the coming year by Citi (along with most other credit card issuers in the US). NYSPro encourages users to participate in this program as it is rolled out by Citibank.

Below please find the text of Citibank's announcement:

Citi® Introduces Chip and PIN Cards for all United States Accounts

Dear Program Administrator,

Citi would like to inform you about our decision to provide all of our clients and their cardholders with the benefit of the latest commercial card technology by migrating all plastic cards to Chip and PIN in the United States. Data security is critically important to us all and using cards that have Chip and PIN technology allows for an added layer of security and convenience, especially to those who travel abroad. The migration to Chip and PIN (for those cardholders that do not already have a Chip and PIN card today), is scheduled to begin in January 2015 and expected to continue throughout 2015. Please cascade this message to other Program Administrators within your organization, as appropriate.

As we begin the process, we want to provide your organization and your cardholders with the highest level of service possible. As such, we will roll out the new cards in waves. Beginning in the next several weeks and in advance of each wave, we will provide additional specifics as to the timing involved for your particular organization's migration.

With their new Chip and PIN cards, your cardholders will benefit from the following:

- Enhanced Security – Chip and PIN cards add a layer of security. Because of the embedded chip in the card, the transaction requires the cardholder input their PIN at the point of sale, if the merchant is Chip and PIN-enabled.
- Improved Convenience – Chip and PIN cards can be used more widely in regions where Chip and PIN technology is dominant. It is expected that in the coming year, US merchants will be also adopting Chip and PIN technology at an increasing rate.

We recognize that you will want to communicate this upcoming change to the cardholders within your organization. To help you do this, we have prepared the following documents:

- Program Administrator Frequently Asked Questions
- Cardholder Frequently Asked Questions
- Notification Template – this can be shared with cardholders and stakeholders, or posted to your internal website, informing them of this new feature and the plan to migrate to Chip and PIN.

Citi appreciates your support and hopes that you welcome this as advancement in our program. Should you have questions about our Chip and PIN cards please contact your Citibank representative.

Citi® Commercial Cards Team

All other terms and conditions of this award remain unchanged.
Please contact this office if you have any questions.
