Scholar Craft

Devoted to excellence and committed to quality, Scholar Craft has continuously designed and manufactured ergonomic, durable and practical school furniture since 1956. In a manufacturing world where the term "Made in America" has been used loosely or lost in semantics, Scholar Craft proudly produces the very finest truly American made school furniture.

Operating six facilities in three states, we are continually investing in the future... upgrading our operations, our talent and our capabilities. Scholar Craft products are designed for today's students and tomorrow's leaders.

Scholar Craft's main production assembly facility and corporate offices are located on 95 acres in Tarrant, Alabama (Birmingham area) and is supplied with injection molded plastic, structural steel and powder coated frames from two of our manufacturing facilities in the area. Our thermofuse and high pressure laminate table tops and work surfaces are produced in our 250,000 square foot plant in Ft Smith, Arkansas.

In 2007, we acquired the Melsur Corporation, the world's leading supplier of premium solid plastic molded melamine components for the school furniture industry. Melsur is located on 7.3 acres and operates a 90,000 square foot manufacturing plant on the Scholar Craft campus. Melsur supplies solid plastic for not only Scholar Craft, but numerous competing manufacturers and is the largest manufacturer of American made product. Our vertical integration, volume capacity, depth of line and finish selection have made Melsur the gold standard for design and durability. The 2010 purchase of CDF Corporation, a Massachusetts based classroom furniture manufacturer, increased our depth of line while broadening our national distribution. CDF produces premium solid and soft plastic furniture and has an outstanding reputation in the marketplace.

Stewardship to the environment is a responsibility we take very seriously. All of our products are MAS certified for indoor air quality. All of the Melsur Corporation products are made from 100% recycled hardwoods.

While Scholar Craft is larger and far more diverse than our beginning over sixty years ago, our core values have never wavered. We build furniture that promotes and enhances the education process...furniture that ergonomically supports students, design that stimulates minds and longevity that guarantees years of productive use.

21st Century LEARNING

Simply defined, collaboration takes place when members of an inclusive learning community work together as equals to assist students to succeed in the classroom. This may be in the form of lesson planning with the special needs child in mind, or co-teaching a group or class.

Friend and Cook (1992).

Over the past two decades, collaboration has been growing in the classroom at an exponential pace. This increase is a reaction to the current needs of leading business organizations whom are focused on team building to create success. Students need a comfortable and engaging learning environment that make it easier to discuss topics effectively and efficiently. At Scholar Craft, we believe this is a key component in the creation of high quality learning environments. Our Kaleidoscope desks, 2Thrive chairs, and Method Tables are designed to be a key part of the learning space that allows students to feel safe and encourages group discussion within the pod. The different learning pods created by the furniture enables diversity. Diversity will challenge students to grow their interpersonal skills as they are able to discuss ideas freely and openly with pod members in order to come up with a solution that normally wouldn't be achieved by a single individual. This not only helps each individual improve their weaknesses, but it also allows them to grow collectively by improving their ability to process information. We will continue to advance our furniture offerings to help students achieve their goals through the advice that is presented and gathered collectively by our customers. We look forward to servicing your needs as this movement continues to gain momentum and we are excited for what the future holds.
